WHITTIER INAUGURATES NINTH PRESIDENT

Whittier College has a new President.

Frederick Moore Binder was inaugurated as ninth President of Whittier on Thursday, November 5, in ceremonies at Harris Amphitheatre on the campus. Delegates from 200 colleges, universities, learned societies and education associations joined the Whittier faculty in the academic procession to honor Dr. Binder.

Dignitaries don robes in President's Office preceding academic procession. Here Board of Trustees chairman Thomas W. Bewley is assisted by Dr. John A. Arcadi of Whittier faculty, Raymond P. Shafer, Governor of Pennsylvania and inauguration speaker, and Dr. Binder.

Procession begins. Dr. C. Milo Connick, Whittier faculty and chairman of inaugural committee, escorts Governor Shafer.

INAUGURATION

Greetings were offered by Dr. Ben G. Burnett, chairman of the faculty, by Mr. Stephen Kramer, president of Associated Students of Whittier College, and by Mr. Rayburn S. Dezember, president of Whittier College Alumni Association and newly elected member of the Board of Trustees.

SAID DR. BURNETT: "Frederick Binder, the Faculty . . . is assured that your presidency presages an era of great creative accomplishment. We like your egalitarianism; we relish your humor; we admire your intellectual bent; and we respect your strength of conviction . . . We express appreciation for your sensitivity to . . . our Quaker heritage. We declare our conviction that your administration will invigorate all aspects of the life of Whittier College."

ASWC PRESIDENT STEVE KRAMER: "Since Dr. Binder's arrival on the Poet Campus last spring, there has been an addition of twenty new full time professors (and) a plan for total curriculum re-evaluation . . . , for increased emphasis on academic depth, (and for) expedient physical expansion . . . to develop this institution to its fullest potential. Dr. Binder, let me now (say that) we appreciate your abilities and look forward to the years ahead that they may be prosperous for Whittier."

On behalf of Board of Trustees, chairman Bewley invests Frederick Moore Binder as ninth President of Whittier College.

TRUSTEE AND ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT RAY DEZEMBER: "Dr. Binder . . . the alumni of Whittier College . . . offer you the challenge of leadership of our beloved and respected college . . . in warm friendship and in appreciation. To meet the forces that are menacing private higher education and overcome them . . . is indeed challenge enough for a lifetime. We know you to be a strong leader, an innovative leader, a creative leader, showing the way to new levels of achievement for students, faculty and administrators . . . The alumni welcome you and Mrs. Binder to our Whittier College family."

Governor Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, in the principal address of the inaugural ceremonies, spoke of current challenges facing colleges and universities, saying in part:

"It is on and from the college campus today that America, and all she stands for and is, are being put to the severest of tests and attacks. Whether she withstands this assault will depend in a great part on the basic honesty, integrity and ability to teach the truth about America. . . . Today, when we have more knowledge about ourselves than at any time in history, we have less understanding and an abundance of unreasonableness . . .

"Bombs explode in research centers, police and government buildings, destroying lives and whole lifetimes of intellectual pursuit and achievement. . . . And the silent majority is no longer silent. It is uptight and showing signs that it, too, will not listen to reason much longer . . .

"Our universities today must not forget the lesson of history—that is, if they are to survive as fortresses of knowledge and truth on which a democracy sustains itself . . .

“For a small minority... it is obvious that only the strongest surveillance and enforcement of our laws can protect society from their violence. But it must be law enforcement that is ever sensitive to our guaranteed rights, regardless of the strain on our police officers. For the others... who see and feel the injustices of the Establishment, we must provide a new hope that change will come, and come without delay.

“To provide reason and truth in the face of all... confrontation is the awful challenge to each citizen, but especially to the college and university administrations and faculties. Our failures must be taught along with our successes. Americans once again must, for the sake of our young, recapture their traditional sympathy for change. And that change must not be confined to the narrow channels of technology and science, which have begun to dehumanize us. The realm of ideas, not business and industry, is our greatest free enterprise...

“We (must) keep our good sense and restore in our young people a sense of purpose about themselves and their place in our future. And by doing that we will preserve the democratic spirit that has made us the freest of all people, regardless of our shortcomings.”

Dr. Frederick M. Binder, ninth President of Whittier College, responded in part with these words:

“If the academy is in trouble, it is partly because the social, political and economic crises of our times have engulfed it and it struggles to survive in unfamiliar rising waters. If the academy is in trouble, if indeed there is a crisis on our campuses, it is due in part to educational tinkers... and academic dilettantes who corrupt the curriculum in their search for irrelevant relevance, credit for life experience and a devaluation of values without form or definition.

“The American liberal arts college... as it enters the decade of the '70s... is beginning to perceive that which it should have understood all along – that it cannot be all things to all men, that its curriculum cannot be passed off like a political platform where one can find something for everybody. Its survival demands that excellence be taken seriously in the classroom, that dabblers in degree credits be shunted off to the lower regions and that those who come only to pause for maturity to catch up with adolescence be informed that the waiting room is closed.

“I have seen the American liberal arts college become a part of the gross national product and not a part of the spirit and attitude of intellectual America. In the public mind I have found the academician suspect and the student a symbol of revolution...

“It is time to reassess our position. For Whittier College this agonizing reappraisal has already begun: the structure of our governance, the quality and style of student life, the enduring values of concern for the individual and the group, the ecumenicity of the Quaker tradition, the complete revitalization of the curriculum, the qualitative strengthening of faculty and students and the examination of the fiscal means to achieve a greater degree of stability. The reappraisal is no different in pattern than that of a hundred other liberal arts colleges but it is new and different for Whittier...

“We must renew the respect for truth and the love for beauty. We must as colleges of liberal arts perform our liberating function with grace and wit and understanding, with force and dedication. We must cleanse ourselves and our campuses of corrupt attitudes which stain the academy. We must perform the tasks which we are best qualified to perform – to teach, to write and to think...

“For all the clouds hanging over the American liberal arts college – clouds of financial disaster, violent confrontations, community censorship and public disdain – we cannot despair... We transmit the culture and interpret the times. We breathe the essence of past and present into the minds of our students. There can be no more significant institution in our civilization than the modern liberal arts college.

“I am privileged to be a part of the academy. I accept the call. I am proud to be in this place. I shall do my best.”

The Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on Governor Shafer by President Binder as a part of the inaugural ceremonies. The citation read:

The pleasure I feel at this opportunity to honor you on behalf of Whittier College is both personal and professional. The personal pleasure comes from our long association dating from shared experiences during World War II. From this association came respect for you as an individual man who displayed then the courage and integrity which qualified you for the accomplishments to follow.

The professional pleasure comes from an increasing appreciation of you as a public servant. With the same courage and integrity, you made the decisions required of you as district attorney, state senator, lieutenant governor and, now, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

A man's accomplishments may sometimes be enough to bring him fame. But it is a man's accomplishments in concert with his character which bring him honor. You exemplify a dedication to those ideals for which this College stands: respect for the individual; adherence to the law and to one's own pledge; and the advancement of knowledge for young men and women, knowledge to help make the unknown known, and the uncertain certain, in the complex world of 1970.

Raymond Philip Shafer, it is my personal and professional pleasure, therefore, with the authorization of the State of California and the Board of Trustees and Faculty of Whittier College, to present to you, as my first official act, the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws.

Music for inauguration was provided by the Whittier College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Eugene Riddle, associate professor of music, with organ accompaniment by Dr. Orpha Ochse, assistant professor of music.

An inauguration committee of faculty, student, administration and alumni representatives planned the day's activities which included luncheon for 750 persons in the Campus Inn following the inaugural ceremonies. Headed by Dr. C. Milo Connick, chairman, the committee included (reading clockwise): Dr. Connick, professor of religion; Mr. Jerry Weaver, director of public relations; Miss Pamela Johnson, Junior student; Dr. Benjamin Whitten, librarian; Dr. Charles Browning, professor of sociology; Mr. Wayne Harvey, alumnus; Mr. Lowell Clark, director of development; Mr. Clark Hughes, assistant director of development; and Dr. Don L. Armstrong, professor of chemistry.

INAUGURATION

First of 500 guests gather in courtyard of President's House for reception.

President Binder (center) and Mrs. Binder greet guests in receiving line.

The Binders are joined by their younger daughter, Robin.

Geoff Shepard, a 1966 Whittier graduate and former ASWC president, is presently at the White House in Washington, D.C. as a Staff Assistant to the President. Here Geoff relates his experiences as a White House Fellow during the 1969-1970 year.

Inaugurated in 1964, the White House Fellows program has as its purpose: "...To provide gifted and highly motivated young Americans with some firsthand experience in the process of governing the Nation and a sense of personal involvement in the leadership of the society."

By GEOFFREY C. SHEPARD, '66

It was four o'clock in the morning and I had been wide awake for two hours. But you really couldn't blame me: Washington was having one of its humid summer nights and I was trying to curl my 6' 6" frame into a bunk bed that squeaked with every turn. To top it off, my roommate for the weekend, Judge Dickson, was happily snoring. I considered waking him, but — he weighed 245 pounds and had played first string fullback on Minnesota's victorious Rose Bowl team in 1961. I decided not to test his good nature, and let him snore.

"EITHER THE WORST WEEKEND OF MY LIFE OR THE BEGINNING OF A YEAR-LONG ADVENTURE"

As dawn came, I recalled the series of events that had brought me to Washington as a national finalist in the White House Fellows competition. The process had begun six months earlier when the President's Commission on White House Fellows had announced the year's program. The basic requirements were easy: an American citizen between the ages of 23 and 35, who was not a full time Federal employee. There were, however, certain intangible factors such as "achievement, intellectual ability, evidences of leadership, special talents, and interest in the affairs of the community, State, or Nation."

UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

The Commission, by means of interviews, essays, recommendations and security investigations, had narrowed the field of 1,200 applicants to thirty-one finalists. We had been flown to Washington for a weekend of interviews, and only half of us would become White House Fellows. It would either be the worst weekend of my life or the beginning of a year-long adventure.

"ALL THE GREAT COLLEGES—HARVARD, COLUMBIA, WHITTIER"

During that weekend, tension was apparent everywhere. The private interviews themselves, where we met with Commission members, actually provided relief from the tension of waiting, and offered a real chance to get to know the Commissioners. Meals, however, were a different matter. To enable us to meet the remaining members with whom we did not have interviews, assigned seating was used for meals at tables very much like those at the Campus Inn — four finalists at a table, with the Commissioner at one end and his wife at the other. For the four of us, it was the only chance to get to know that particular Commissioner. Mealtime, usually a relaxing, congenial time of the day, became precisely the opposite as we engaged in polite but very real competition with other finalists for the attention of our host. I usually found myself a little too nervous to eat and my stomach soon began to react — an old trick I had picked up during first-year finals at Harvard Law School.

But somehow the weekend passed and the ordeal ended. Monday morning I awoke to discover that the gods had indeed smiled upon me: I had been chosen to be a White House Fellow. The rest of Monday went by in sort of a daze, ending with our going to the White House to meet President Nixon. During the ceremonies, the President observed that he was pleased to see "... all the great colleges and universities represented: Harvard, Columbia, Whittier ..."

"THE PROCESS BY WHICH THE NATION IS GOVERNED"

The White House Fellows program begins each September and lasts twelve months. A Fellow is placed with the Secretary of a department, with the Vice

IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

President, or in various of the executive offices of the President, i.e., Bureau of the Budget, Office of Economic Opportunity, Office of Science and Technology, or Urban Affairs Counsel. He stays in his assigned department for the full year to get an in-depth understanding of how that department functions. At the same time, all Fellows participate in an educational program which brings them together two or three times a week to meet with top government officials, journalists, and business and professional leaders. Each Fellow is paid between $7,000 and $23,000 by his department, depending on his experience and previous position.

Far from attempting to attract talented young people into government service, the program is designed to expose future leaders in the private sector to the problem-solving process at the highest levels of the Federal Government. The Commission has stated: "It is essential to the healthy functioning of our system that we have in the nongovernmental sector a generous supply of leaders who have an understanding—gained at first hand — of the problems of national government. In a day when the individual feels increasingly remote from the centers of power and decision, such leaders can help their fellow citizens comprehend the process by which the Nation is governed.”

Geoff with President Nixon and Hudson B. Drake, director, The President's Commission on White House Fellows.

WHITE HOUSE FELLOW

Thus, over the course of the year, each Fellow is exposed to a great deal more than is a regular government employee, and carries the experience with him into his chosen business or profession.

“MADE A PEST OF MYSELF”

I was assigned to the Treasury, my first choice. The Treasury is a tremendously diverse organization, concerned not only with domestic economic policy, but also with developing countries, international monetary affairs, bank mergers, customs, gold imports, coinage, and Presidential security (Secret Service and White House Police).

I sat in the Executive Secretariat and read the Secretary’s mail. I attended staff meetings, briefings and luncheons. And I talked to as many officials as I could. In general I made a pest of myself, but I did learn a great deal about the Treasury.

My experiences as Staff Assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury gave me an in-depth look at the operations and responsibilities of a major department in our Federal Government. I learned much about our economy and the intricacies of international monetary affairs. I also had the opportunity of working on the preparation of legislation and testimony before various congressional committees on the Hill. I ended the year as Acting Deputy Assistant to the Secretary with responsibility for all the Secretary’s mail and for other special projects of interest to him.

“EAGER TO MEET WITH US”

The busy year began with our orientation meeting the first weekend in September, when we spent three days at Airlie House, a conference retreat in Warrenton, Virginia. There we not only got to know each other, but we also met with three government officials: Arthur Okun, formerly Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors; James Farmer, Assistant Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; and John D. Ehrlichman, Counsel to the President.

The orientation weekend was a preview of things to come. Over the course of the year, the Fellows met with more than one hundred people directly concerned with the government of our Nation — almost all the Cabinet members; members of the White House Staff (Peter Flanigan, Herb Klein, Rogers Morton, Arthur Burns, Robert Mayo, Donald Rumsfeld, Pat Moynihan); Congressmen Carl Albert and Gerald Ford; Senators Barry Goldwater, Fred Harris, Mike Mansfield, Charles Mathias and William Proxmire; newsmen Stewart Alsop, Joe Harsh, James Kilpatrick, Howard K. Smith and the entire editorial staff of the Washington Post.

We also became acquainted with other interesting people such as Richard Helms of the CIA; Milton Eisenhower of the Violence Commission; Dean Rusk, Jack Valenti and Hubert Humphrey of the previous Administration; George Meany of the AFL-CIO; and Kevin Phillips of “Southern Strategy” fame.

We soon found that far more valuable meetings occurred if we could meet with these people for lunch or dinner. This not only got the speaker away from the interruptions of his office and gave him a chance to relax, it also enabled us to establish a rapport with him so the discussion after the meal was more relaxed and open. The size of our group, numbering fewer than twenty, enabled all of us to participate in a real exchange of ideas with the speakers.

A really amazing thing was that these people were eager to meet with us. They gladly took time from their demanding schedules to spend time explaining government operations to us. They not only spoke, they listened. John Ehrlichman even went so far as to suggest seeing us again at the end of the year so we could assess the year in the light of our experiences.

“THE OPPORTUNITY TO WATCH FROM THE INSIDE”

Our world was affected by numerous events between September 1969 and September 1970, while I was a White House Fellow. Washington, D.C., as the Capitol of the most powerful Nation the world has ever known, was on the originating or receiving end of almost all those events. As Fellows, we were given a rare opportunity to watch, from the inside, just how our Federal Government acted and reacted during that year.

Subsequent years and new events will test the decisions made during our year as Fellows. But regardless of time’s judgment, the insights we were privileged to gain into the decision-making process will become a valuable asset to our Nation in future years. For myself, it was a year I’ll never forget!

White House Fellows meet with then Secretary Walter Hickel in his office, Department of the Interior. Geoff is 8th from left.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By JOHN STREY Whittier Sports Information Director

A NARROW MISS

Redlands and Claremont-Mudd, two of Whittier's four SCIAC football rivals, finally caught up with the Poets and pushed them out of championship consideration for only the third time in 11 seasons under coach John Godfrey.

Still, the Poets came within an ace of winning a fourth straight title as Redlands pulled a Whittier trick to roar back in the final three minutes for a 14-13 victory in the typical hair-raising finale.

Redlands thus shared the championship with Claremont, which early had spanked the Bulldogs decisively, 35-0 and the Poets, 35-20, in a closely-contested football game.

Whittier's 4-6 record was produced with wins over Cal State Hayward (15-14), Cal Western (15-14), Occidental (23-6) and Pomona (41-13). The half-dozen losses were meted out by La Verne (13-0), Cal Lutheran (16-7), Cal State Fullerton (24-10), U.C. Davis (28-18), Claremont and Redlands.

Defensive tackle Larry Willey, a steady performer all season, picked up a flock of honors featuring "small college player of the week" from the Football Writers Association, UPI All-Coast second team, All-NAIA District 3 second team and All-SCIAC first team.

Joining Willey on all-district were defensive end Larry Taylor, flanker Mike McGuire, guard Pat Kriska and quarterback Wayne Estabrook. All-conference selections were McGuire, Estabrook, tackle Don Pastalaniec, Kriska, center Bob Coats, halfback Dave Johnson, Taylor, linebacker Dennis Bonfantine, and tackles Jeff Downs and Wayne Peterson.

Sophomore Estabrook led the SCIAC in passing, completing 157 of 334 for 1,636 yards and four touchdowns. Sophomore McGuire was the top receiver with 47 catches for 607 yards and four TDs. Sophomore Tommy Castro was third with 42 grabs.

Freshman Johnson, despite missing the last one and three-quarters games because of a shoulder injury, placed fourth in conference rushing on 626 yards in 169 carries. Junior Mike Campanale missed the last two and one-half games because of a knee injury, but still ranked fifth with 511 yards in 151 attempts.

In addition to losing Johnson and Campanale for the two crucial games with Claremont and Redlands, Godfrey also lost tight end Phil Adamson and running back Tom Bailey for the year. Defensive end Leon Geiggar was injured and Doug Mooers turned pro before the season started.

CAGERS EYE TITLE

"We could have one of our very best basketball teams at Whittier College," coach Ivan Guevara said as he opened practice last October, "but we also could lose more ball games than we have for many years."

All starters and three other lettermen returned for another year, but they were confronted by one of the most formidable schedules in the school's history.

The defending NAIA district 3 champions started with a two-game series in Honolulu against University of Hawaii, losing 81-72 and 87-82 to the Rainbows who were fortified by the addition of four junior college All-Americans.

Returning to the mainland, the Poets visited the University of California Riverside campus to face the Highlanders, last year's NCAA college division tournament runnersup. The result was the same, 85-75, and after three games the Poets still were looking for victory number one.

The 1970 start was a near carbon-copy of the 1969 beginning when Whittier lost a one-pointer to Cal State Long Beach, plus all three games on a swing through Indiana. Coach Guevara righted the ship, however, and finished 21-8, SCIAC co-champions and district 3 winners.

The Poets defended their titles in the Kris Kringle tournament at Cal State Fullerton and the holiday tourney at Chico State College. Other strong non-conference opposition on the December schedule were Azusa-Pacific, Humboldt State, San Diego University and Puget Sound University. Appearing later on the Whittier schedule will be Cal Poly Pomona, Rhode Island College, UCOU and Westmont.

Heading the lettermen group was all-district center Bob Cheeks and all-conference guard Steve Scoggin. Other veteran starters were forwards Willie Nelson, Russ Sharples and Mark Lamore and guard Willie Allen. Lamore returned after seeing only limited service in the second semester last year with a broken hand.

Sophomore Ernie Adams, a transfer from Imperial Valley JC, saw considerable action in the backcourt during the Poets' early games. Entering his third season at the Poet helm, Guevara has compiled a 46-13 record, two SCIAC titles and two trips to the nationals in Kansas City.

Dear friends:

It is a real pleasure to report that contributions reached a record high of $147,528.24 for this campaign. Although much of this total was in restricted gifts, we have about $50,000 to be used for "faculty enrichment". The Boards of Directors of the Whittier College Alumni Association and the Associates have earmarked this amount for the construction of a faculty center to be built as soon as the new architectural master plan is completed. This is a much-needed addition that will be particularly significant with the new curriculum and its emphasis on interdepartmental offerings. The faculty was most pleased when this decision was announced and want to convey their sincere appreciation to all who helped make this possible.

On behalf of the Whittier College Alumni Association, I want to thank each of you listed in this Honor Roll for your commitment to Whittier College.

Sincerely yours,

HONOR ROLL BY CLASSES

The names included here are of alumni and friends of Whittier College who contributed to the Alumni Fund between September 1, 1969, and August 31, 1970. This Honor Roll is intended to recognize and officially thank all who gave. The following marking * will appear before names where the person joined the Associates. Members of the Associates make an annual contribution of $100 or more to the Annual Fund. We have tried in every way to insure that all listings are complete and that all names are correctly spelled. However, we suspect that errors have been made. For those names omitted or misspelled, we want to apologize in advance and ask that you bring the mistake to our attention. Contributions to the Patrons of the Library Program (and other donations since September 1, 1970) are not included in this Honor Roll.

POET PROMENADE

TWO MEN JOIN BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Two Whittier College alumni have been elected to the Board of Trustees. Dr. Carl L. Randolph, '43 and Rayburn S. Dezember, '53 bring the membership of the Board to twenty-three persons.

Dr. Randolph, president of United States Borax and Chemical Corporation, joined U.S. Borax Research Corporation, a subsidiary of U.S. Borax and Chemical, as manager of inorganic boron research in 1957, and later was appointed associate director of chemical research. In 1959 he was named vice president of the Research Corporation. In 1963 he was appointed assistant to the president of the parent organization and in 1966 was elected a vice president. Two years later he became head of the marketing department and then director and executive vice president. He became president of U.S. Borax in 1969.

A resident of La Habra, Dr. Randolph received the Whittier College Alumni Achievement Award in 1968. His wife, Jane, is also a 1943 graduate. He received the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in chemistry from University of Southern California, and is a member of the American Chemical Society and author of publications on boron research.

Ray Dezember, who is president of the Alumni Association, is a founding director of American National Bank and was elected chairman of the board in 1966 and president and chief executive officer in 1968. He also owns and operates Bakersfield Ready Mix, Incorporated, is president of Contronics, Incorporated and Service Transport, Incorporated, and secretary-treasurer of Craft Construction Company, all in Bakersfield.

Also married to a Whittier graduate, Joanne Erreca, '56, Dezember is a director of the Greater Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Regional Advisory Committee on Bank Policies and Practices for the fourteenth National Bank region.

As a Whittier student, he was freshman class president, Orthogonian Society president and, in 1952-53, president of ASWC. An outstanding football player, he was Little All Coast in 1951, football captain, most valuable player, and all-conference halfback in 1952.

CLARK HUGHES

ASSISTANT DEVELOPMENT DIRECTOR NAMED

New Assistant Director of Development is Clark Hughes, who joined the staff in October. He will assist administration and volunteers in the several fund raising campaigns being coordinated in Whittier's development office.

Receiving the bachelor's degree in political science at University of Utah, Hughes continued graduate studies both at Utah and at University of Geneva, Switzerland. He is a resident of Beverly Hills.

He was Division Coordinator with the Los Angeles Heart Association before coming to Whittier. As liaison between the association and the medical profession and public, he organized and implemented professional education projects and hospital and civic programs.

EUROPEAN TOURS SCHEDULED

Now in their fifth year, two European tours are scheduled for the coming summer, according to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Riddle, tour guides. Professor Riddle is a member of the music faculty.

The first tour is planned for June 24 and will cover eight countries of Central Europe, from London to Rome. This tour will last three weeks and earn two credits for those who wish to capitalize on travel in this way.

The second tour, lasting six weeks, will begin July 19 and end August 30, and can earn four credits. Travel will be through Southwest Europe including England, France, Spain, Portugal, Morocco, Italy, Switzerland, Luxembourg and Belgium.

According to Mr. Riddle, first class accommodations are included in the cost, which is $795 for the first tour and $1,295 for the second.

RICK VENTURA

DEAN OF STUDENTS HAS ASSISTANT

Rick Ventura has been named an assistant to the Dean of Students, with responsibility for representing the Dean with student government, men's organizations and related campus activities. He is also involved in liaison to the various ethnic and cultural programs on the campus, assisting with the Ethnic and Cultural Center to be located this year in College Hall.

Ventura will also serve as liaison to the Whittier College Tutorial Program, working with the Assistant Dean of the College and the Tutorial Director in the planning and operation of the program.

He is a graduate of California State College at Los Angeles with a bachelor's degree in history and a master's degree in political science. He and his wife live in Hollywood.

CHEMICAL LIBRARY CAMPAIGN SUCCESSFUL

A campaign to raise $50,000 in contributions for the purchase of additional holdings for the Chemical Library has been completed successfully, and qualifies the Whittier College chemistry department for accreditation by the American Chemical Society.

The first gift of $35,000 was the contribution of Dr. John Stauffer, trustee, who pledged that amount on the condition that the college would secure the additional funds from other sources. Other donors during the three-months period ending in November were: U.S. Borax and Chemical Corporation, through the efforts of Dr. Carl L. Randolph, college trustee; the PepsiCo Foundation, through Mr. Donald M. Kendall, trustee; Southern California Edison Company; Mr. Tien Zee, alumnus; Dean W. Roy Newsom; and the Whittier College Woman's Auxiliary.

DRAMA COMPETES FOR AWARD

With a play called "Shelley," Whittier's drama department has entered competition in the annual American College Theatre Festival, sponsored by American Educational Theatre Association, American National Theatre and Academy, the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, the Smithsonian Institution and American Airlines. Ten productions will be selected from plays performed by the drama departments of more than 160 colleges across the country.

The next production will be the musical "Cabaret."

The drama department has discontinued its mailing of advance notice to all alumni. However, according to Dr. Robert Treser, professor of speech and drama, anyone wishing to be put on the mailing list may write Whittier College Drama Department, Whittier 90608.

JOINT SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM INITIATED

A new scholarship program arranged between Whittier College and Rio Hondo College has been named for Judge Edward Guirado. The scholarships are designated for assistance to Rio Hondo students transferring to Whittier with Junior standing, who have attended the previous two semesters at Rio Hondo, are residents of the Rio Hondo College District, and who have good academic standing, outstanding personal achievement and a potential for success. Preference will be given to Mexican American students.

Judge Guirado, member of the Whittier College Board of Trustees, is also a Whittier alumnus, graduating in 1928. He has been a Judge of the Superior Court of the southeast district in Norwalk, and before that was in private law practice in Whittier, served as Justice of the Peace for Whittier Township, and became a municipal court judge of Whittier in 1951. He is a graduate of the University of Southern California Law School.

IMPACT REUNION IN HAWAII

Nearly one hundred persons gathered at the Pagoda Floating Restaurant in Honolulu, Hawaii early this month for a reunion of Whittier alumni, parents and friends of the college at the first IMPACT program to be held in the Islands.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Binder were among the honored guests, as were: Dr. Harlan Cleveland, President of University of Hawaii; representatives of Hawaiian secondary schools; parents of current students; and Coach Ivan Guevara and the Whittier College basketball team.

Whittier played University of Hawaii twice and lost both games, but the IMPACT program was successful in spite of it. Douglas Bennett, '64, was master of ceremonies for the program.

BRUCE RIESENBERG

PLACEMENT DIRECTOR APPOINTED

Bruce Riesenbergs has joined the Whittier staff as Director of Career Planning and Placement, and more effective services in placement and job information now are available to alumni and students.

The function of the office is two-fold, according to Riesenbergs — assisting graduating Seniors and alumni to find suitable employment, and supplying applicants for alumni in need of qualified employees. Alumni are encouraged to notify the office of available positions as well as to request assistance in finding a position.

Other responsibilities include career counseling, educational placement services and off-campus part time student employment.

Riesenbergs, who lives in Los Angeles, received the B.A. and M.B.A. degrees from UCLA, and came to Whittier from University of California-San Diego where he was Coordinator of Career Education Programs. Prior to that time he was a labor relations representative for the Screen Actors Guild. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, California Educational Placement Association and Western College Placement Association, and is a member of the board of the China Society of Southern California.

“PERSPECTIVE” FIRST IN COUNTRY

The first scholarly, undergraduate business and economics magazine in the country is being published at Whittier, and is available to the public.

Titled “Whittier College Business Perspective,” the twice-yearly periodical is the project of the business and economics department. Dennis H. Moberg, instructor of business administration, is editor-in-chief with a new editorial board of students each semester.

Each issue contains a perspective by an alumnus with experience in the business community, and by students whose ideas are sometimes untested but represent current theoretical thinking. Alumnus and Board of Trustees member Richard H. Deihl, president of Home Savings and Loan Association, contributed to the first issue an article called “The Financial Challenge of Urban Renewal.” The second issue will include a paper by alumni-trustee Carl L. Randolph, president of U.S. Borax and Chemical Corporation, on the subject of business and the environmental problem.

A subscription for one year is $3, for two years is $5, and a lifetime subscription is $100. Individuals or representatives of business and industry may receive more information by writing or calling the business and economics department of the college.

CAMPUS DAY SET FOR FEBRUARY 27

Plans are underway for Whittier College's Campus Day, a special day set aside each year to welcome prospective students.

Held this year on February 27, Campus Day will include a full day's activities designed to introduce the Whittier experience to high school seniors, junior college students, and their parents.

Activities will begin with a coffee hour where Poet students and faculty members will have the opportunity to talk informally with guests. A special program will follow in the Chapel, with President Frederick M. Binder and the Deans participating. Luncheon will be served in the Campus Inn.

Highlight of the day will be special demonstration classes, covering all major areas of study at Whittier from art to zoology. Faculty members and students will be on hand to answer questions.

All persons who are considering college and would like to see Whittier College firsthand, and all those who would be interested, are invited to request registration information and a copy of the Campus Day brochure, by writing to: Admissions Department, Whittier College, Whittier, California 90608, or calling 213-693-0771.

158 INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ENROLLED

A total of 158 students from 38 foreign countries are enrolled at Whittier College this semester, including 70 women and 88 men. Total full-time enrollment at Whittier College this semester is 2164.

The largest single group comes from Hong Kong with 61 students enrolled. The next largest number of students comes from Saudi Arabia where 17 Whittier College students call home. Twelve students claim Mexico as their home country.

Other countries with more than one student at Whittier College include: Canada 6, Korea 6, Iran 5, Japan 5, Vietnam 5, England 3, Peru 3, Ceylon 2, Costa Rica 2, Denmark 2, India 2, Kuwait 2, Malaysia 2, and Thailand 2.

Arturo Porzecanski, a senior from Uruguay, serves as the president of the International Students Union at Whittier College this year.

FORD MEXICAN AMERICAN SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Mr. Richard Gonzales, Manager, Industrial Relations for the Ford Motor Company, Los Angeles Assembly Plant in Pico Rivera, was the first of a group of business and industry representatives that presented President Binder with a $1000 check for the Mexican American Scholarship Fund at Whittier College. Ford's commitment is for $4000 over a four-year period. Martin Ortiz (left), Director of the Center for Mexican American Affairs, and Dr. Richard Harvey, Assistant Dean of the College, look on. Some 12 other industrial organizations are also expected to participate in the scholarship fund.

OLD ACQUAINTANCES

Cora (Scheurer) Laport writes that at the age of 80 she is keeping herself quite busy. She plays for Sunday night hymn sings and a chorus group in Meadow Lakes, New Jersey, where she is now living. Also, she reads an hour and a half once a week to tape for records for the blind.

'22

Edith (Jessup) Comfort brings us up to date on her activities with the information that she has lived in the Haverford College community for many years where her husband was a counselor. For 17 years she worked for the American Friends Service Committee, which she found to be a very enriching experience.

'28

Herman H. Henkle retired as Executive Director of the John Crear Library on March 31, 1969. His present professional affiliation is Director of Planning at the Hill Reference Library in St. Paul, Minnesota, until March, 1971.

Roy Q. Shain will shortly complete the organization of a credit union to serve the thousand or more employees of Downey Community Hospital. He tells us that this is about his 20th credit union organization.

'30 Katherine (Balden) Juday is still teaching. For the past eight years she has been in the special education field of mental retardation, teaching on the junior high level in the Glendale Unified School District.

'31 Lucile (Shackelford) Gearhart and her husband are living in Grants Pass, Oregon, where he is the minister of Bethany Presbyterian Church. The big event of their year was the marriage of their youngest son, John, to Miss Kay Johnson.

Margaret (Short) Gray is enjoying her recent retirement in her new home in Oakhurst, Calif., a beautiful rural area near Yosemite. She says the local chamber of commerce calls it: "Land of Contentment, at Yosemite's Front Door!"

'33 Mary (McGraw) Miller, whose husband, Milton, is a University of California rice specialist, has raised two daughters and one niece, and is now enjoying three grandsons and one granddaughter.

Rachel (Jaques) Zirwes and her husband, Frank, are active in the real estate business in El Cajon, Calif. She is also teaching primary grades. They have six children and several grandchildren.

'35 Herman O. Fink writes that he and Adaline (Allen '36) are enjoying their retirement on Balboa Island.

'36 Joseph P. Cosand, president of the Junior College District of St. Louis, was elected chairman of the American Council on Education for the coming year on Oct. 9 at A.C.E.'s annual meeting in St. Louis.

'38 Mary Jean (Kennedy) Aerni, after engaging in research on poaching in Uganda under a grant of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, has now taken up residence in Berne, Switzerland.

'39 J. Robert Akers will soon be completing his sixth year in Switzerland, where he is working for Union Carbide as Product Director for the Plastics Business Center.

U.S. Air Force Lt. Col. Doris D. Williams has been decorated with the Meritorious Service Medal at Oklahoma City Air Force Station. Col. Williams distinguished herself in the performance of outstanding service as chief of the traffic control branch at Headquarters, Fifth Air Force, Fuchu Air Station, Japan. She is now at Oklahoma City Air Force Station, where she serves as director of navigational aids and operations at Headquarters, South Communications Area.

'40 The Reverend George Jenkins, a minister for 28 years, has been the pastor of the Alhambra Friends Community Church for the past 20 years.

Frank Nelson has recently moved to San Diego. He has his own orchestra, and is playing nightly at the Master Host's Inn, Mission Valley, San Diego. His daughter Ellen is attending Fresno State College.

'41 Betty K. Merritt writes that after teaching for 20 years, she has taken a vacation to travel and see the world for herself. Her next stops are Spain and Portugal!

'42 Frederick W. Errett has been a member of the music faculty at Sacramento State College for 13 years and organist of the largest Presbyterian Church in the Central Valley for 16 years. His last season's activities included a workshop for Chico Chapter, American Guild of Organists, on organ teaching; conducting a performance of the Fauré "Requiem"; and an organ recital on the 70 rank organ at St. John's Lutheran Church. He has been married for 31 years and has two daughters, both married, and one grandson.
