KENNETH L. BALL, Manager
Class 1934

There have been many things said about colleges, universities and their alumni and recently Dr. David D. Henry, president of the University of Illinois had some rather apt words which are herewith presented for your consideration:

"The university that is fairly certain how to make a good chemist or physician or teacher is not at all certain, as the records will show, how to make a good alumnus.

No institution, not even the most successful, has yet mobilized its full strength in alumni relations. Higher education will not prosper until all institutions have been reasonably successful in such a mobilization effort.

The alumnus is important for what he can give. He can give money, he can give advice, he can give interpretation.

These are all important gifts, but in the current period interpretation is the most important.

The alumnus will be most effective in the interpretation task when he comes to understand that in working for his alma mater he is not fulfilling a duty, although it could be so classified, nor repaying an obligation, although he owes one, but accepting an opportunity to become a part of the continuing life of an institution with a great mission. He belongs to its history; he will have a great joy in having a part in its future."

Need we add more?

Save the following dates for the Second Annual Alumni Association Lecture Series: February 11, March 17, April 7, May 12. Dr. Arthur F. Corey '24, State Executive Secretary of the California Teachers Association, will give the first lecture. Application for institute credit has been made.

The President's Corner

Fellow Alumni,

For want of a superior means to achieve my point, may I borrow some lines from Richard Armour, satirist, and wit, in his appraisal of "Communication System" . . .

"Behind the back of host or guest
My wife gives me the high sign—
Instruction, warning, all the rest—
By means of hand or eye sign.
She winks, grimaces, jerks her head,
And twists at every joint,
While I, with mingled hope and dread,
Try hard to get her point.
She registers her fears and pains,
Shows histrionic bent,
And afterward, when she explains,
I see just what she meant."

In times past, we, as an Association, have made certain attempts, much like the husband and wife above, to communicate our needs and desires to various areas of the surrounding community, and they with us. In these attempts we have been, at best, unsuccessful.

As was pointed up in the Alumni Leaders Conference and in the work of the Communications Commission, we must be cognizant of the vital relationship between the College and the community in our daily and long-range program. It is evident that this area is in great need of exploitation and cultivation. It is a prime area where the Association, and you as individual members, can be of service. There are many avenues of contact with the community that can and must be utilized.

There is a need for stronger press coverage, particularly in the metropolitan papers of the athletic program of Whittier College. Professional organizations and service clubs utilizing and sponsoring college services can promote the college program. College-sponsored events of a cultural nature, festivals, concerts, lecture series, Poet Theatre productions will all bring better lines of communication into play. It is obvious, too, that business and industrial groups can be beneficial in an advisory capacity to serve the college and its student body.

If we are to choose a single area as our target this year, I feel that this is the area. Through any sustained effort here, I am certain we will markedly satisfy the need for Money, Students, and Ideas . . . which after all epitomizes the reason for our existence as an Alumni Association.

In closing, for your Alumni Board, may I wish you all the merriest of Christmas-times, and the hope for a New Year filled with gain and joy, whatever the endeavor.

Sincerely,
Dave Wicker

Alumni Faces

David E. Wicker '49, who served as vice-president of the original Whittier Alumni Chapter, and last year as vice-president under Tom Wood, now serves as president in his own right.

At Whittier, Dave majored in Business Administration and Education. He graduated in 1949, and more recently has obtained his masters degree.

In 1950, he began teaching in the East Whittier City School District, where he now assumes the responsibility of Principal of the Murphy Ranch elementary school.

For relaxation, the new president tries to find extra time to be at home with his wife, Gene (Ritchie '51), first grader, Jeff, and four year old, Jill.

Other interests lie in his stereo equipment, bowling with the teachers' league, and fishing . . . "when I can find the time!"

Money, Students, and Ideas . . . this was the theme of last year's First Annual Alumni Leaders Conference.

Although this year's conference embraces the former theme, with intent to expand and enlarge upon it, Whittier College has yet another item toward which much effort is being directed. This is alumni relations.

Whittier's alumni are its most precious asset, for they hold the key to the future . . . what the accomplish today for the college, can well be a determining factor in its tomorrow.

The conference, held on the campus on September 19, provided five objectives to be utilized by all alumni leaders in the fulfillment of their various responsibilities. Those responsibilities are continual aid and interest in the growth and future development of Whittier College.

The alumni leader (1) will have up-to-date information of the college's and Association's program; (2) will share problems of the Association's total program; (3) will explore possible program emphases; (4) will analyze College, Association, and community needs; and (5) will share experiences among organization leaders.

Among the leaders, who will be profiting from such objectives, will be those members of the present Whittier College Alumni Board. This board consists of the four elected officers (see biographical sketches), six commission chairmen, ten society representatives, five club representatives, three class representatives, three presidential appointments, and six ex-officio members.

Many of the "ideas" for furthering alumni relations among the students, alumni, and community will emerge from the six commissions—their chairmen and the committees.

One of these commissions, and important in its own right, is the Alumni Fund commission, headed this year by Beryl E. Notthoff '35. The group has thus far determined to make use of several successful methods of contact used in last year's campaign. Namely, the telethon, the class agent letters, and direct mail from the fund chairman.

The telethon, first used last year, was highly profitable in reaching the prospective donors in the Whittier area, through telephone contacts by groups of alumni leaders.

Intent, aren't they! The faces of these alumni leaders reflect their desire to serve the Alumni Association and Whittier College. Also featured in this article are brief biographical sketches of the new Alumni Board members (in italics).

The commission sets its sights on a goal of $25,000 for this year's fund drive. The 1958-59 campaign reached a total of $14,684.00 from a sum of 1121 contributors, which constituted 12.2% of the total alumni numbering 9,195.

Another commission, under the able guidance of R. Jackson Gaultin '47, is that of the Business and Professional Organizations.

This particular group will strive to develop and organize greater interest among those professional graduates of the college and undergraduates seeking similar occupations. Their purpose is two-fold, at present. The committee feels that scholarships might be made available in certain fields of endeavor, which heretofore have not been available. Another prime service which this group could perform would be that of practical assistance, as well as giving of information concerning scholastic programming. No immediate activity is underway at this date.

Darlene (Colwell) Kruse '50 will direct the commission for Clubs and Chapters. This committee, under her direction, will act as a go-between in keeping tabs on the various alumni organizations. The aim here is simple: the Association wants to encourage alumni groups to remain active and continue planning programs throughout each year.

These various groups number fifteen, at present, and include the ten society groups, a Broadoaks Alumnae chapter, the 1195 Club, the Cap and Gown Alumnae group, the Independents, and the Foundation Club.

The principal reason to establish effective lines of communications with all of Whittier College's innumerable "publics" is to stimulate contributions of "students, money and ideas!" Therefore, the establishment of the Communications Commission.

This essential advisory group, will devise means to reach a variety of publics. A random assortment of these "publics" might include all of the members of the Whittier College "family" prospective students, par-

Newly elected Vice President of the Alumni Board is Norfleet Callicott '42.

Cal attended classes on the Poet campus just prior to the outbreak of World War II, when he entered the U. S. Army Air Force. Upon his discharge from the service in 1945, he returned to Whittier to receive his BA degree in English.

His major field of study was speech and drama; he served for two years as Acropolis editor.

Professionally, Cal is kept busy in his capacity as Sales

Manager for Sues, Young and Brown in Los Angeles, wholesale distributors of Zenith products.

The Callicott family includes mother, Barbara Jean (Stambaugh '43), Carolee, fifteen year old sophomore at La Habra high school; John, 12½; and Lindy, 11 years old. Family fun might include swimming or listening to Daddy's record collection.

Cal was first associated with the alumni board when, as president, he represented the Lancer Society. He looks to be even busier now in his new position.

Barbara Maple '37, busy mother of five children, is adding to a long list of activities in serving on the present alumni board.

A graduate in the class of 1937, Mrs. Maple was active in dramatics and also served on the school's Drama Board, before teaching school in El Monte for four years.

In 1939, she married Earl Maple, who is in the wholesale lumber business, and they now live in a charming East Whittier home, which provides a swimming pool for their active family. The oldest boy, Tom, is a high school senior; Chris is a junior; Robbie attends junior high; Tim is a fifth grader; and Melanie is home with mama.

Traveling is a favorite hobby of Barbara, and second-best includes reading about the places she would like to visit someday. Past trips have included tours of Mexico, Canada, and more recently, Europe.

Barbara was formerly active on the Alumni Board as Athenian Society representative during the war years; she served as sponsor for the Athenians for two and a half years.

Besides alumni interests, Mrs. Maple is presently active in the Spastic Children's League of Whittier.

A Whittier College student and athlete from 1935-39, and still an avid fan and follower of all campus sports: this would be Charles W. Robinson, Jr. '39, another newly elected alumni board member. He is active now as he was when, as a student, he served as president of the Associated Mens Students and president of the Orthogonian society.

A major in chemistry at college, Mr. Robinson has since been employed at the Watson Refinery of Richfield Oil Corporation. A part of this time was spent in laboratory work, then supervisory positions, and now he is presently Superintendent of Operations in the Light Oil Operating Department.

Favorite recreation past-times include fishing, hunting, and working in the yard of his Whittier home. Also there, to complete his homelife are wife, Pat; Linda, eight, and six year old Bill.

The media through which the commission will work include newspapers, radio, television, publications, and direct personal and impersonal approaches. All of these have been utilized at one time or another to widen the scope of college activities. The challenge now will be to develop each to its fullest extent.

The Student-Alumni Relations commission is headed by Stu Gotthold '56, and with Whittier's campus expanding at its present "fast clip"—this group has at hand no easy task. The committee will be organized to include representatives of all areas of both student and alumni affairs.

The group's activities could well include sponsoring of various student activities and joint participation in such events as athletics and the Spring Sing. One phase of the program, already underway, is the Student-Alumni Convocation. Immediate past president Tom Wood '49 was the first speaker.

Jackie (Smith) Connally '56 is chairman for the sixth commission, Activities, which includes planning for Homecoming, Alumni Day and the Alumni lecture series.

400 Attend Armour Lecture Sponsored by Cap and Gown

Over 400 attended the Cap and Gown Alumnae-sponsored lecture given by Dr. Richard Armour in the Whittier Woman's Clubhouse in October. Presented as a benefit for the Marjorie E. Gregg Student Assistance Fund, the affair netted over $160.00 to swell the fund to $650.00.

The assistance fund was established by Cap and Gown actives as a living memorial to the late beloved Dean of Women to help students in need of emergency funds. Cap and Gown Alumnae have taken as their project the perpetuation of the fund.

Following Dr. Armour's well-received address, a reception was held in his honor in the Clubhouse lounge. There the famous author and satirist autographed books and chatted informally for well over an hour. Because of the success of the occasion, a similar event is being planned for next year.

Under the leadership of Ann Dahlstrom Chandler '56 and Helen Bryce Smith '39 the following assisted in putting on the benefit: Carline Reade Woodward '43, Alma Martins Roberts '58, Virginia Holloway Porter '40, Alice Saunders Cusick '40, Jackie Clarkson Cauffman '48, Jean Crossan Clapperton '42, Barbara Sager '59, Mary DeLapp Bowlin '55, Mariam Swope Stokes '40, Jody Taber Nowels '53.

Shirley Plummer White '47, Barbara Holloway Smith '43, Hannah May Thomas Whitson '42, Barbara Hagler '49, Betty Jo Adams Griffith '45, Pat Cattanaach Deihl '46, Joyann Hull Elkinton '48, Patty Paget Casjens '51, Betty Adams Freeman '54, Kathy Heacock Nighswonger '57.

Elizabeth Lamb Tunison '43, Jeanne Batson '50, Barbara Brown Harrington '42, Kathy Bonillas Marsh '55, Lynn oJhnsen Sandahl '53, Jane Taber Randolph '43, Julie Rivera '59, Diane Gruenemay Gersen '59, Barbara Stone '58, Laurel Meyer '48.

Active Cap and Gown members also assisted: Libby Kirk, Rachel Chavez, Kris Holmberg, Helen Tompkins, Loretta Gotch, and Madelyn Petrovich.

ASWC President Bill Kelley Elected to National YMCA Post

ASWC President Bill Kelley was recently elected one of three vice-chairmen of the National Student Council of YMCA's.

A graduate of Fremont High School in Los Angeles, Kelley is a sociology major. He is a member of the Knights and Squires, the Lancer Society and has served as president of the Associated Men Students.

He was elected by delegates from each of the nine regions of the YMCA in the United States at their national conference held recently at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

Following his graduation in June, Kelley will spend a year as a YMCA intern in Sweden.

Broadoaks Alumnae Hold Fall Luncheon

Fifty Broadoaks Alumnae met on November 21, 1959 at the Marino House Restaurant in South Pasadena for their annual Fall Luncheon. Guests included Miss Mabel Rice; Mrs. Lucille Rupp, new secretary of Broadoaks; Mrs. Veola W. Neely, head teacher at Broadoaks; and Jean and Bill Marumoto, director of alumni relations.

Miss Ruth McIntosh, from the United Nations Speakers Bureau discussed the Fundamental Education Project in Mexico, which she visited last Spring. Miss Rice and Miss Neely reported on the new location and plans for Broadoaks. The need for toys for the Nursery School was discussed, with the members deciding to sponsor or assist with this need through their contributions. Miss Rice invited the Alumnae to hold their Spring Luncheon at Whittier, with a visit and tour through the new Broadoaks. Jeanette Mills, president, accepted the invitation for the group.

Other officers include Mrs. William G. Balch, vice-president, Mrs. Harry R. Simpson, secretary, Miss Alice Lembke, treasurer, and Mrs. William Chappelow, historian.

1195 Club Spirit Award Won by George Krueger '39

George Krueger '39 was recently presented the 1195 Club Spirit Award.

The award is presented to the letterman in the class celebrating its twentieth anniversary since graduation who has best exemplified the spirit of Whittier College during this time.

As an undergraduate Krueger was a member of the Orthogonian Society, ASWC Athletic Representative, captain of the baseball team and a member of the football team.

A retired marine major, he is currently living in La Mesa, California.

"Leaves From Our Adventure Book" was the theme carried out by the Metaphonian Society to win the sweepstakes prize for the Homecoming parade. The fifty-six entries were led by Dr. Harry Nerhood who was voted "Most Popular Professor" by the students.

"Everybody Wins!" at Annual Homecoming Golf Tournament

Everybody won a prize at the annual Homecoming Golf Tournament at Whittier Narrows Golf Course November 8. Sixty alumni and their friends competed under the chairmanship of Tom Sepulveda '39.

Kerns Vaughan '36 was big winner for the day with a score of 73. Second was Bill Jackson '55 with 75. Don Kennedy '40 and his henchmen from Garden Grove, Al Wels and Les Willard, tied for third with 78. Jackson also received a prize for making the longest drive, and Harry "One Putt" Beatty was runner up.

Best guessers as to what their scores would be were Bill Stanley '49, Buck Jarnagan '50, Dick Beam '59, Jackson, White, Newt Robinson '37, and Jack Mele '43. Those who came within one stroke were Vaughan, Max McCarty '59, Jean Martin '50, Chappie Wheeler '50, Lasco Kyle, Wallen Andrews and Jay LeClear '42.

Prize for the biggest dreamer went to Whitey Bloom '49, while Robinson received an award for the highest score.

Other awards included: Lost ball, Wayne Wilson '38 and Everett Hunt '43; Biggest liar, Bob Capps '54; Oldest, Wayne Moon '26; Picking up, Ron Klepfer '59; Nearest pin on three-par holes: Gordon Satterla, Gail Brandon '51, Bruce Smith '56, George Sattler '57; Honorary golf player, Bob Clift '40.

Tom Sepulveda thanks all those who participated in the tournament and those who assisted him in running it. He is still looking for Cal Callicott's foursome, who were finishing their rounds in the dark.

Long Beach Chapter Gives $200 Check

The Long Beach - Harbor Chapter recently presented a check for $200.00 to the College to be credited to the 1959-60 14th Annual Alumni Fund.

Earnings from the trust fund since its establishment have made possible a total contribution of $930 in six years from the original investment of $1300. Trustees of the fund report that these contributions have been made without having to touch the investment principal in any way.

Alumni participating in the program are Gene Bishop '39, Dr. John Kegler '38, John Christopher '35, Clem Reece '27, Walt Hooker '42, Ed Patterson '37, and John Bertram '25.

Others are Mrs. G. T. Davis '27, Mildred Hawley '42, John Christiansen '42, Len Crofoot '49 and Vernon Shepard '26.

Suggestions in Lighter Vein for Teacher Recruiters

By Mabel F. Rice

"No matter what profession you choose, you have to get up in the morning!"

The speaker was the master of ceremonies for Career Day in a Southern California high school. As he spoke, he looked over the group of men and women seated on the platform who represented widely different professions, but he was addressing the audience of seniors. A few of the students laughed. Others looked back at the speaker with wide serious eyes. Life for them was assuming a solemn aspect.

Each speaker outlined the pros and cons of his profession, but the representative of the teaching profession had only pros. Your only initial investment, he pointed out, is in your education. You graduate from college with your degree and your teaching credential. You can step into your first classroom empty-handed, so far as equipment is concerned. Your place of business is ready for your occupancy. Your desk and your chair have been provided for you. Whatever books you need—pencils, pencil-sharpener, clock—all are there. Compare that with the bare beginning necessities of equipment for the young doctor, the lawyer, a beauty parlor operator, a motel owner, a restaurateur.

The beginning teacher doesn't need to worry about his customers. There are more than enough waiting for him! As he walks along the streets, a casual observation convinces him that there are plenty more on the way. Perhaps you, too, have felt sorry for the optimistic man or woman who opens a restaurant or a tearoom. Fresh curtains, pretty tables with a bouquet of flowers on each; shining new equipment on which he still owes the payments. Then the hopeful watching and waiting for the customers to come—and keep coming. There's the new beauty parlor operator waiting for the telephone to ring—and keep ringing. The owner of the new motel watches the cars rush by, praying that some will stop for the night. It can be a pathetic and a tragic story—one that the teacher is spared.

In 1959-1960 there is no shortage of jobs for the teacher. The spring graduate can put his finger on the map and say "That's where I want to teach." He can be fairly certain that there is a job there for him. Whittier graduates have put their fingers on the map in an infinite variety of places; the Hoopa Indian Reservation; a one-room school in Death Valley; that perennial vacation land, the Monterey Peninsula; the hunting and fishing paradise of the High Sierras; the Feather River country with its summer and winter sports; Palm Springs; San Francisco and the Bay area; Blythe and Mount Shasta; Hawaii, Boston, Florida. After a year or two of experience, you find them in Japan, Germany, Alaska, the West Indies, Panama, Africa.

Everybody loves a vacation, but to the teacher his vacation is of particular significance. His work motivates his vacation. His vacation vitalizes his work. The bank-teller takes a far-flung trip, but he can't keep the customers waiting while he tells them about it. The teacher has a trapped audience, but the pupils live it. Vicariously they travel to Europe, the Near East, the Orient. They take the Alcan Highway; they whiz around the world by jet.

You have to get up in the morning anyway

The first-year teacher need not begin with the Soviet Union. A week-end trip to Pacific Grove in butterfly time may be a greater inspiration for a short science "unit" in his classroom with some insight for children into that amazing phenomenon, the annual migration of the butterflies. The beginning fourth grade teacher need not go farther than a week-end trip to Angel's Camp in April or May to watch preparations for the annual Frog Jump. He can bring back material that may lead pupils into amazing excursions into the anthropology of the region, implicit in the name of Calaveras County; into the literary heritage of the Mark Twain country; to a fourth grade science unit on frogs which may result in a frog jump, either real or merely in an art lesson with painted frogs that leap across the bulletin board. The writer still remembers the comprehensive "unit of work" developed by the late Shirley Garman Mealer whose family accompanied her to Angel's Camp. A vacation for the family, grist for Shirley's mill, and a wealth of California lore for a class of fortunate children.

The teacher's standing in the community is secure. Everyone thinks he knows more than most of us do. At the bridge table someone hands him the score pad. "You're a school teacher. You keep the score." People stop him on the church steps. You're a school teacher. "Tell me what's wrong with my child."

But you can't meet your husband in the kindergarten? Oh, yes you can! You can meet him in the nursery school. One of our Broadoaks teachers did. Details on request.

But you want to be a social worker! The social workers come to the teacher for facts of lives. Many a good teacher is a social worker. Ask Keith Walton in Los Nietos or Joe McClain in Pico.

You want to be a writer! Who writes the school text books but experienced teachers? Begin with the common garden variety school magazines and serve your writing apprenticeship.

You want to be a psychologist and study lives! Start at the grass roots, in the class room where you work with lives!

You want to go into business. Schools are big business today with plenty of opportunities for the business the business department of many a California school major. Check the names of the Whittier graduates in district.

You want to be an actress! Ask the good teachers. Every day they put on a show.

Ho hum! Teachers have so many meetings! What wouldn't the striking men or women across the country give to go to a few dozen meetings, if a regular pay check went along with them! Don't count your meetings. Count the blessings of the teaching profession!

Miss Mabel F. Rice, Professor of Education and Director of the Broadoaks School of Early Childhood Education, has been with Whittier College since 1935, the year she was named Director of Broadoaks School. Miss Rice was educated at Stevens Point Normal School, the University of Chicago (A.B.) and the University of Southern California (M.A.) and she has done extensive graduate work beyond her M.A. degree. She is the author of many articles in professional journals, and of short fiction stories which have been published in magazines and have been reprinted in text books for children and young people.

Now that the 1959 gridiron season has come to a close, Whittier College can boast of the greatest ground gaining backfield performer in the history of small college football.

Gary Campbell, the Poets' 6 ft., 195 pound quarterback, ran and passed the pigskin for a total of 2383 yards while the Whittier team was winning eight of 10 games and capturing its third straight Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship under coach Don Coryell.

When you add this figure to those Campbell recorded in his sophomore and junior years at Poetville, you come up with the astronomical total of 5177 yards, the all-time best for a small college player over a three-year period.

During the past season hometown product Campbell, who was an All-CIF selection at Whittier High School and a Junior College All-American at Fullerton JC, ran for 666 yards on the ground and passed for 1717 yards as he completed 110 of 183 tosses. That's connecting at a little better than 60 percent, and Coryell says, "Anybody who can complete 60 percent in practice with no defense against him is a pretty fair passer!"

Coryell, the dynamic Poet mentor who has been on the Quaker campus for three seasons now and has an outstanding overall record of 23 wins, five losses, and one tie (not to mention the three straight SCIAC titles without the loss of a single conference contest), must be given a great deal of credit for the pigskin success that has fallen on the handsome and soft-spoken Campbell.

Last season Coryell modified his revolutionary IT formation so that the passing talents of Campbell could be utilized from a halfback position. All through his career Campbell had been a single-wing tailback. The Poet coach also designed a spread formation in which Campbell played deep. This setup was used mostly on third downs and in long yardage situations, and the Poet phenom repeatedly came through with long-gainers to pull the Poets out of trouble.

This year Coryell decided to switch his passing wizard to the all-important quarterback position, and although he had his troubles early in the season, Campbell adapted himself to the strange spot and progressed so rapidly that by midseason he looked like a natural born quarterback.

The Poets had only 10 days to prepare for their first game with the Cal Aggies, and the new quarterback had to learn the intricate fakes and handoffs of the IT formation in this short time. As a result his passing suffered against the Aggies since he completed only four of 16 attempts. However, Campbell did a good job directing the running attack, and Whittier won 20-0 to get off on the right foot on the road to a successful grid campaign.

Campbell's collegiate playing days are over, but he has a future in professional football to look forward to, for he has been drafted by the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League and also by the Dallas entry in the newly formed American Football League.

While Campbell contemplates his pro career, his old college coach, Coryell, is busy ironing out the problems that need to be solved in order to come up with another championship team in 1960. And Coryell's biggest worry is probably how to fill Campbell's shoes.

In the past these two phenomenal footballers, player Campbell and coach Coryell, have displayed the quality that makes a champion; so don't be surprised next season if you see Gary Campbell flashing across the nation's television screens on Sunday afternoon and don't be surprised if Don Coryell's Poets rack up their fourth straight conference championship.

30 Members in Alumni Choral

Over 30 former Whittier College Choir members have participated in the Alumni Choral since its formation in October, 1959. Alumni come from all parts of Los Angeles and Orange counties to sing with the group. One couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crane (Francis Burnight), drive from Redlands to Whittier for rehearsals. The Choral, under the direction of Mr. Eugene Riddle, gave its first performance as a prelude to the play at the Women's Clubhouse on Homecoming Day. The second performance was for the East Whittier Teachers' Club on December 14.

Future activities of the Choral include a Christmas caroling party, participation in the annual College Bach Festival, and a performance at Alumni Day in the spring of 1960. Alumni who know of organizations that would like to have the Choral perform as part of the program are requested to write the Alumni Choral, Alumni Office, Whittier College.

Coach Aubrey Bonham's basketballers are favored to capture their fourth straight SCIAC title this season. The Poets are missing only one starter, captain Ivan Guevara, from last year's team that competed in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championship tournament in Kansas City.

Returning starters include forwards Carroll Hooks and Bill Johnston, captain and center Herm Mason, and guard Bill Hollinger. Lettermen Bill Donner, Bob Sanford, Jim McLaughlin, Chuck Kenley, Sherrill Brown, and Joe Hernandez are also on hand.

Transfers Ed Poe and Paul Collier and sophomores Bill Roberson, Ken Reed, and Jerry Hester are also expected to help.

Fullback Frank Piana and tackle Ed Bain have been elected as co-captains of next year's football team. Bain was named to the All-SCIAC first team this season along with quarterback Gary Campbell, and Ken Gregory, guard Dick Cate, and center Vince Asaro. Tackle Charlie McMurtry, who has been drafted by Buffalo of the American Football League, guard George Allen, and halfback Brent McDowell garnered second team berths.

Campbell, Gregory, Cate, and Asaro also received NAIA District 3 honors, and Campbell and Asaro were named to the Little All-Coast first team. Gregory and McMurtry were honorable mention Little All-Coast.

Alumnus Frank Shaffer '25 was a happy and proud man at World Series time this year. The former Poet grid captain, who is now varsity football and baseball coach at Fairfax High in Los Angeles, had three of his former boys in the series. Pitcher Larry Sherry and outfielder Chuck Essegian, two of the Dodgers' brightest series stars, and White Sox pitcher Barry Latman were all tutored by Shaffer at Fairfax as was Sherry's older brother, Norm, who is presently listed on the Dodger roster as a catcher.

$25,000 Established as Goal For 14th Alumni Annual Fund

General Chairman Beryl E. Notthoff '35 for the 1959-60 14th Annual Alumni Fund recently announced that $5,000 of this year's $25,000 goal had been contributed in the Leadership Phase of the current campaign which began September 1.

He reported that the use of personal solicitation for the first time in the fund program has helped to increase both larger contributions and greater participation.

Approximately 200 alumni in six key areas in the Southern California region have been contacted by this method in the pilot study.

Area Chairmen and their committees officially began the personal solicitation drive on November 18 with a Kick-off Dinner where they heard a challenge from President Paul S. Smith, and then completed their campaign with a Victory Dinner on December 10.

Fund chairman Notthoff further announced other aspects of the campaign. He said that an attractive general fund mailing, in the form of a blue book was sent to all alumni in December.

A class agent's letter will be sent the first of the year to those who have not responded to the December mailing.

In April, the Telethon will again be conducted in areas with a concentrated number of alumni to urge them to participate in the fund program.

Area Chairmen and their committees are: Long Beach-Harbor, Ed Patterson '37, chairman; Gene Bishop '39, Dr. John Kegler '38, Walt Hooker '42, Clem Reece '27, John Christopher '35. San Fernando Valley, Wood Glover, Jr. '34, chairman; Ralph Rich '34, Frank Patterson '32, and Vince Sinatra '33.

The Pasadena area is covered by Bill Stevenson '36, chairman; Thurston Sydnor '39, Lawrence Tilton '49, Bill Olsen '35, Art North '37 and Bill Draper '35.

Orange County has Dick Spaulding '34, chairman; L. H. Looney '50, Art Johnson '27, Bill Foster '58, Don Kennedy '40 and Frank Garland Swain '36.

Cliff Thyberg '35 leads the San Gabriel Valley area with John Eastman '40, Bob Stull '41, Dean Shively '37, and Jim Ash '37 serving on his committee.

Whittier is lead by Norfleet Callicott '45 as area chairman. Assisting him are Ken Ball '34, Dick Thomson '34, Dr. John Arcadi '46, Don Shively '37, Burt Parminter '37 and Tolbert Moorhead '32.

Frank Crites reminds that "it was the Class of 1912 which placed 'The Rock' on the campus which we trust will remain as a symbol of the permanence of Whittier College and will continue to be a prominent factor in student life." Since retirement from teaching at Los Angeles City College after 23 years, Frank has served on the Los Angeles County Grand Jury and the San Diego County Federal Grand Jury. He has been active in the operation of the Escondido Center and the County Farm Bureau for the past five years. He and Jessie (Davis '15) live at 2502 Cranston Drive, Escondido where they enjoy their avocado ranch in a smog-free area.

Our class reunion in June was a huge success. It was held at the home of the Britains in Fullerton. Many came several miles to visit with former classmates, but for distance, Alice (Hawley) Haskins came the farthest, from Kearney, Nebraska. How about another reunion, someday?

Evelyn (Robinson) Brittain writes: "My husband decided to retire a year early; as a result, was have spent about half the time since, away from home. Mid-summer found us in the Devil's Post Pile area for camping and fishing. Late summer we took off for Oregon to visit and have a trip down the Rogue River with our son-in-law, Glen Buckmaster, cousin to our Joe Buckmaster. We caught our limit of steelhead on the Rogue. The end of that week we were at the Pendleton Roundup; so we are very much aware of our changed school status."

Married to Freda Maynard and have four sons: Frank William, Jr. '58; one son in US Army; another son in US Navy; and one at home. I have been a grandfather since August 8 of this year, a boy and another future Poet. I have been employed in the U. S. Post Office Dept. in Burbank, California, since 1941.

Lillias R. Nichols writes, "Taught kindergarten in Abenal, Morro Bay, and then twenty years in Los Nietos District! Life Membership PTA from Wiggins School. Retired in '56 and spend every possible minute driving in USA and Canada—have pulled trailer over 15,000 miles. At present travel by station wagon and camp! I have two children, graduates of Whittier College, living near by and five grandchildren. Retirement is grand—can't do everything I want to here and here-abouts!"

Elizabeth Dickerson is district superintendent of Cypress School District. The third school in the district, which will soon be under construction, will be known as the Elizabeth Dickerson School.

Margaret (Moote) Smith lives in Vista, California. She says, "We have four children, two boys and two girls, ranging in age from 5 to 22. Our oldest son was married last month and is working on his doctorate in Chemistry at Berkeley. Last year he was a teaching assistant there and this year was awarded a national Science Foundation award. We have lived in several states and travelled extensively in the USA with our children. I've been active in PTA work through the years."

Lenox E. Roark lives in Lindsay, California, where he is in the agricultural pest control business and raises oranges and olives as a sideline. He is active in the Kiwanis and Toastmasters' Clubs and the Masonic Lodge, was elected to the Lindsay City Council in 1954 and is at present mayor. In 1941 he was married to Ida Fowler and has a daughter, Patricia, born in 1944 and a son, Donald, born in 1947.

John E. Maxson lives in Whittier. He writes of himself, "After graduating from Whittier College, I began in the employ of the Southern California Edison Co., where I am still employed. From 1942 to 1946 I was in the armed forces and engaged in the North African campaign. During my stay in Africa I had an opportunity to visit Egypt and the Holy Land. In 1957 I was married to Bessie Rasmussen, a widowed school teacher from Minnesota. In the process I acquired two step sons, three grandchildren and a mother-in-law. I'm a member of the Anaheim Elk's Band and of the Plymouth Congregational Church choir in Whittier.

Edward R. Miller lives in Yellow Springs, Ohio. He says, "I'm starting my third year as director of the Office of Continuing Education at Antioch College, an experimental program in adult education, which includes a non-credit Adult Center, research, teacher training under the National Science Foundation, conferences, workshops, residential programs, alumni education, development of adult education in other communities. I've written the chapter on Adult Religious Education for the new Adult Education in the U.S. Handbook edited by Malcolm Knowles. Some time is occupied by filling in as minister in neighboring churches. My wife, Ruth (Otterman) '29, works some in the village library; our daughter, Ann is a junior in high school.

Joseph F. Bosio makes his home in San Marino. Except for three years service in the US Navy during World War II, he has been employed as a Deputy City Attorney of the City of Los Angeles, assigned to the Department of Water and Power since 1936. He married Elise Rousseau (UCLA) in 1937, and they have one son, John, 12 years of age.

Cyrus M. "Milt" Tucker reports that in 1933 he was married to Miriam (White), who was a Whittier freshman in '32. They have six children: Danny, Judy, Karen, Miriam, Timmy and Deborah, and three grandchildren. He taught high school and junior college science for nine years and then in 1944 moved to Newport Beach, where he became active in boating. He is now engaged in marine surveying (boat inspections) as a primary vocation. He is a Master in the United States Merchant Marine. He is active in numerous clubs and in fraternal orders.

Cy also reports that he was in Hawaii last year, where he visited with Dr. Paul Nomura, Ralph Onizuka, and Ted Ing. Ralph teaches science at Papaikou (just north of Hilo); Paul is a veterinarian, and Ted is in YMCA work in Honolulu.

Paul and Florence (Thill) Winget live in Whittier. Paul is District Freight Agent for the Santa Fe R. R. They have one son, Mick, (Whittier College and USC) who is with Bethlehem Steel and a daughter-in-law, Joan (USC), who is currently teaching at Sierra High School.

Barbara (Hogue) Gregory says she is "just a housewife." She has a husband, Robert M. Gregory, and two children; Roger, 23, is married, and Fred, 18, is in his second year at college. The Gregorys live in Yuba City, California.

Georgia (Follett) Walker lives with her husband, Wesley '30 in Montebello. She is past Federated Woman's Club president, and served as the only woman chairman on the Civic Center Committee for Montebello. She has an office in Los Angeles as a Christian Science practitioner. She and Wes have enjoyed a number of wonderful holiday trips, the last a five week trip to the Caribbean which included visits to French, Dutch, and British Islands there and she says "of special interest, Haiti!"

Barbara (Woodward) Pell is enjoying her grandchildren. Lt. Victor Pell, Jr. is in Strategic Air Command at March Air Force Base and he and his wife have a two year old daughter. Donald Pell and his wife have a 2½ year old son, and Don is with the purchasing department of Aerojet General in Azusa. Her daughter, Suzanne is a freshman at Monrovia High School.

Ralph H. Onizuka teaches General Science and American History at Kalaniana'ole Intermediate School and his wife, May is a secretary at another school. Their children are Eric, high school sophomore; David, eighth grader and Homer, who is 4. The Alumni Office file for our class lists 119 graduates and former students. Eighty-six live in Southern California, 17 in Northern California, 15 in other states and one in a foreign country. Our goal for 1960 is to publish news from each one—help us by sending a note. Just jot down the kinds of information you'd like to know about your classmates—that's what they'd like to know about you!

Ed and Irma (Richardson) Patterson have moved from Tustin to 6504 Via Colinita, San Diego. Their return to the harbor area was occasioned by Ed's promotion to division manager of the Southern Counties Gas Company. Their oldest son, Jim '59, married a Poet junior, Marjorie Millikan, December 11. Their other sons, Larry and Johnny, are in the sixth and fourth grades at Miraleste School.

Frank and Imogene (Sproule) Jones live in Taft, where Gene is a primary teacher. Jerry, their eldest, is in the Navy. Donna married a fellow San Jose State grad and presented Gene and Frank with their first grandchild last summer. Bruce, the youngest Jones, is a sophomore at UC Santa Barbara.

A phone call to Ralph Corwin took him from his dark room—photography is one of his hobbies these days. He and his wife live in Rosemead and Ralph enjoys his position with the Los Angeles City Schools as assistant manager of maintenance and operations. Harold, the older son, owns a business in Costa Mesa. Norman, a Cal Poly graduate, is now attending the Southern California School of Theology. He plans to study for the doctoral degree next year at Boston Theological Seminary. Both young men are married.

Dolores (Lautrup) Ball reports that she and Kenneth are still Whittier residents. Their oldest son, John, was married this summer to a Mills College student who is now a senior at Whittier. John is a Stanford graduate and his brother Donald is a sophomore there. Bonnie is a high school junior and Robert in the fifth grade. With four children, PTA work has played an important role in Dolores' life!

Joe and Adelaide (Rasin) Sweeny are again in Washington after a series of State Department assignments which found them living in South Africa, the Sudan, Sweden and Yemen.

Your reporter spent an evening with Thomas Edwards and his wife, Kay, last summer. They live in Merion, Pennsylvania and Tom is a materials inspector at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. His continuing interest in history and his long residence in Philadelphia combine to make him an ideal guide: colonial days come to life as he takes you on his own tour of historic spots. He says that his only Whittier visitors in recent years have been the Frank Patterson family and Dr. Paul Smith. He extends the hospitality of the Edwards family to other college friends who visit Philadelphia. He and Kay enjoyed a trip to Europe this fall, but are now "at home" to visitors.
