Lecture Series Underway

Dr. Cora Miller, chairman of the department of home economics, will give the second lecture in the WCAA-sponsored series Monday night, March 16 at 8 p.m. in Stauffer Lecture Hall on the campus. She will discuss food fallacies and misinformation. Active locally and nationally in home economics circles, Dr. Miller is the co-author with Dr. Gladys Stevenson of "Introduction to Foods and Nutrition." She has served as Fulbright lecturer in Greece and as consultant at Cairo University for the United Arab Republic.

Dr. Homer Hurst, chairman of the department of education, will speak April 20 on "The School: A Unique Institution," followed by Eugene M. Riddle, associate professor of public school music and director of the A Cappella Choir, on May 18 with "Making Sense Out of Sound." Dr. Charles E. Martin, visiting professor of political science and international relations opened the series in February speaking on "The Unfinished Revolution in the Philippines."

Debate Team Wins Five at Harvard

Competing with 116 college and universities from across the nation, the Whittier College debate team of Fred Hiestand and Geoff Shepard compiled a 5-3 record in the recent 11th National Invitational Debate Tournament at Harvard University. The team tied the records of Dartmouth, Princeton, and Brandeis by scoring wins over the University of Chicago, Morehouse, MacMurray, Luther, and the University of California. The loss that edged the team out of the finals was a close decision to the University of Illinois, the only team to beat Harvard.

Whittier's two junior debate teams of Judi Sells and Maryanne Halliday and Butch Mackey and Ken Hunt completed the weekend of February 14 in the Loyola University Invitational meet.

Hiestand and Shepard plus Frank Peasley and Tisha Beery will meet upper division competition at the Tournament of Peers, February 29 at Occidental.

Officers of the Forensic Club for the current year are John L. Peterson, president; Fred Hiestand, vice president; Judi Sells, secretary, and Gil Bisjac, treasurer.

Spring Sports Round-Up

Opening their 1964 varsity track season the Whittier College Poets will rely heavily on sprinter Jim Godfrey '64, and distance ace Don Power '65. Undefeated in dual meets last year, the Poets have been sorely hit by the loss of weightman Stan Sanders '63, and broadjumper Ned Lazaro '63. Godfrey and Power, key men in the highly successful 1963 campaign, will be the prime determinants in the success of the 1964 edition.

Godfrey, a consistent winner in the 220 last year, and a threat in the 100, could also blossom into a double-winner for Whittier.

In the distances, Don Power remains the key man. With teammate Bob Crawford '65 away in Ghana, Power will have to rely on frosh ace Lou Jones for aid in the mile and the two-mile. Power was a consistent double-winner in these events last year, and is one of the finest distance men produced at Whittier in the recent past.

Attempting to fill the very large shoes of the departed Sanders, Larry Jaro '66 and Dave Pena '65 will compete in the discus and the shot put.

The Poet freshman basketball team raced to its 18th win of the season February 15 against Caltech after having downed the Orange State frosh by a 20 point margin two nights before. To date the Poetbabes have lost only two contests, both of them to Cal Western. Earlier in the season they scored a victory over the USC frosh in a game held in Long Beach.

The varsity has not fared as well as the freshmen. The team has won only 7 games while losing 15. In league competition they are third, behind Redlands and Occidental.

Newsom Assists NSF in Evaluation

Dr. W. Roy Newsom '34, Dean of the College, was invited to assist the National Science Foundation in evaluating proposals for in-service training of secondary school teachers for 1964-65 at a meeting held in Washington D.C., from January 9-11. The participants evaluated over 400 proposals for institutes, about one-half of them in the area of mathematics. Criteria included the merit of the program as a mechanism for improving the competence of teachers, the ability of the institutions to attain the goals listed, competence of the staff, evidence of institutional interest, the need for an in-service institute in the region, the criteria for the selection of participants, and the type of recognition available to participants.

Featured speakers at the meeting were Francis Keppel, the United States Commissioner of Education, and Dr. Logan Wilson, president of the American Council of Education.

A quartet of Whittier College students will appear May 10 on the nationally televised program "College Bowl." The invitation to appear was accepted this week by the College's Administrative Committee.

A number of them convened on campus on February 1 for the Class Agent Workshop at which time each person wrote 15 letters to classmates. Rock Format Temporary

According to Director of Alumni Relations William H. (Mo) Marumoto, the four-page issue of The Rock is only temporary. It will be published in its present format once more in July and then revert back to its former format of a 20 page issue probably with the new fiscal year beginning in September.

"We realize the importance of proper communications with our alumni and are aware that The Rock in its abbreviated form is not as well received as its regular format. However, because we had to economize, it was necessary to take this action," he concluded.

Matching Gift Programs

Dollar for dollar a gift to Whittier College by an alumnus can be matched if the company for which he is working has a matching gift program as part of its overall programs of support for education.

Although programs differ from company to company, the idea behind matching gifts is fairly simple. When an alumnus makes a contribution to the College, he fills in a short form provided by his employer, who matches the gift by sending an equal amount to the College.

Companies who participate in the program who employ Whittier College alumni include IBM, American Potash, United Parcel Service, Standard Oil, U.S. Borax, and Philadelphia Quartz. Others are Dow Chemical, Ford Motor Company, Merck, and the Kern County Land Company.

Inquiries about the program may be directed to William H. (Mo) Marumoto, director of alumni relations, Whittier College, Whittier, California.
